Energetic, Poised, Humorous, Smart, Professional, Conversational, Powerful, and Entertaining...

...all words that have been used to describe Jaclyn Rowe's speaking style as she motivates others to live an extraordinary life.

As a national speaker, Jaclyn's presentations are customized for students, educators, women's groups, civic organizations and corporate audiences. Jaclyn's primary goal is to prepare an effective presentation based on the needs of each audience leading to action and positive change.

Since receiving her certification in 2007, Jaclyn has been committed to implementing and teaching on personalities. Through her exceptional trainings and keynotes, she challenges people to see the value in understanding themselves and others and provides practical tools to improve relationships, leadership skills, customer service and communication.

Jaclyn began her professional speaking career in 2005. She quickly ranked in the top 10% of speakers for the largest freelance speaking organization in the U.S. She is a co-author of the book "Ready, Set, Succeed; Making Your Dream Come True."

Jaclyn resides on a cattle ranch in beautiful southeast Missouri with her husband and their two children. Whether she is your keynote speaker or workshop presenter, she is sure to lead you from ordinary to extraordinary!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Jaclyn has been the Keynote Speaker for many organizations and schools at a variety of events. She does not offer a "canned" program, but chooses to craft each speech based on audience need and desired outcome. She always uses humor, personal stories, relevant research and creativity to deliver an effective and dynamic keynote address.

Keynotes range from 20 minutes to 1 hour and have been themed around topics such as leadership, academic success, cultivating the mind, inspiration, motivation, character, etiquette and entrepreneurship. A list of organizations and schools where Jaclyn has spoken is on her website, along with her experiences and ideas for keynote topics.

Personality Expert
Wired That Way

Keynote, Training or Workshop on the topic of Personalities.

Anywhere people could be the problem, this presentation is a must.

Uniquely gifted with strengths and natural abilities, and yet, we often find ourselves in a mess. Co-workers do not get along well, relationships with management are difficult, we struggle to keep volunteers, communication is lacking and we cannot seem to pull it all together. Through an appealing presentation, individuals, employees, managers, community leaders, educators or students are given the opportunity to learn about their personality and how it affects their perspective, their influence, their communication, their relationships and your overall success.

As a Certified Personality Trainer, Jaclyn enthusiastically presents her knowledge of the four main personalities: Popular Sanguine (yellow), Powerful Choleric (red), Proper Melancholy (blue), and Peaceful Phlegmatic (green) using a highly interactive approach. Presentations are customized according to audience need and time allotment. Each presentation begins with an overview of the personalities and an assessment. From there, the presentation is tailored to match your topic choice. Topics may include: personalities in leadership, management style, customer service, communication, teamwork, how to identify personalities, understanding motives, classroom management, parenting, etc. In workshop or training settings, each audience member will receive their own personality packet with a profile as well as tips and tools for further study.

This presentation may be given as a keynote (45 min. - 1.5 hours) and is excellent for team building and professional development, half or full-day seminars, 4-8 hours. Jaclyn is also available for media interviews and panelist discussions on this topic.
